MEMPHIS APPEAL

TUESDAY, : : : : APRIL 3, 1883 RESIGNATION OF CAPT. EADS. Wearied out with the perpetual snaffling of creatures such as hate greatness and howl in their mean way against genius, Cap-Esds, the great benefactor of the Mississippi valley, has finally resigned his position of the Beard of the River Commission. The APPEAL deplores deeply the loss of the services of the observer and thinker, who was the first to detect and demonstrate the simple, yet importent laws that govern the long-considered in explicable phenomena of the Mississipp river.
